ABOUT CAL STATE DOMINGUEZ HILLS

History: California State University, Dominguez Hills is located on the historic Rancho San Pedro, the oldest Spanish land grant in the Los Angeles area. Its 346-acre campus was in the continuous possession of the Dominguez Hills family through seven generations, from its concession to Juan Jose Dominguez in 1784 to its acquisition by the people of the state for the University.

The Legislature of the state of California authorized the establishment of this University in 1960, and the first students were enrolled in the fall of 1965. The campus is strategically located in the heart of a major technological, industrial and transportation complex. Moreover, it is central in a population that is international and multi-ethnic, and the people of this area are genuinely heterogeneous; cultural pluralism is a major characteristic of the University. At the same time, there is a continuing focus on the Hispanic heritage of California.

Enrollment / Academic Schools and Colleges: It is home to more than 12,000 students in six colleges: College of Liberal Arts, College of Education, College of Health and Human Services, College of Business Administration and Public Policy, College of Natural and Behavioral Sciences and College of Extended and International Education.

Housing: There are furnished apartments located on the northeast corner of campus. The gated complex includes 32 one-bedroom, 72 two-bedroom and 60 three-bedroom apartments. There are also recreation and meeting rooms, study lounges, laundry rooms, volleyball courts, a weight room and picnic area. Convenient residential parking partially surrounds the complex. As a service to students seeking off-campus housing accommodations, the Housing Office keeps a listing of local houses, apartments, rooms and "room-in-exchange for service rendered." Students who seek off-campus housing accommodations are encouraged to visit the office to review the current listings.

Athletics: The CSUDH Athletics Program has built a national reputation for athletic and academic achievement. The Toros compete nationally at the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Division II level and are a member of the California Collegiate Athletics Association (CCAA) Conference, which is recognized nationally as the "Premier Intercollegiate Athletic Association" in NCAA Division II. Additionally, CSUDH boasts the state-of-the-art Home Depot Center and a new 3,000-seat soccer stadium, which made its debut in fall of 2003.

CSU Dominguez Hills sponsors 11 intercollegiate athletics teams which serve approximately 200 student-athletes in the fall (men's and women's soccer, cross country, volleyball), winter (men's and women's basketball, indoor track and field) and spring (baseball, softball, outdoor track and field and golf) seasons.

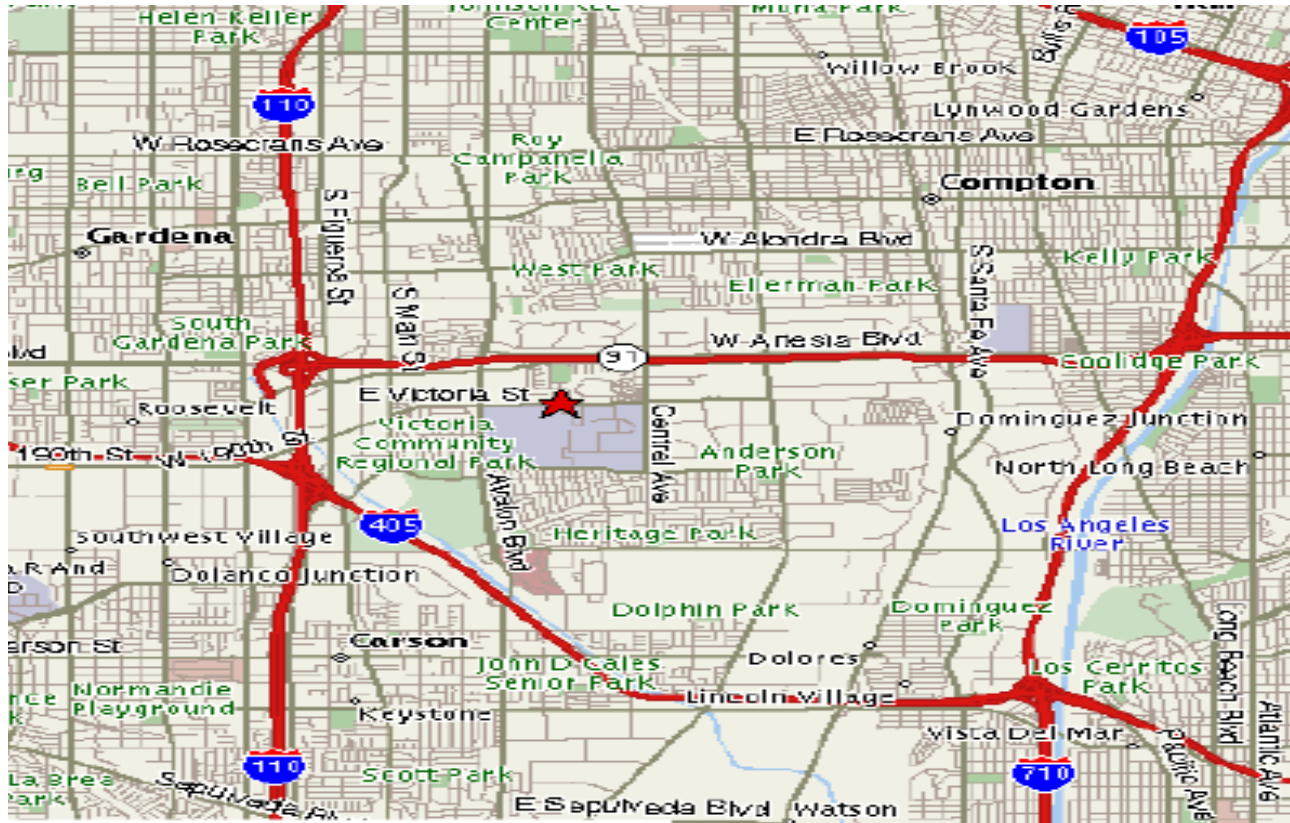

In 2007-08, the men's soccer team claimed its second-consecutive and unprecedented eighth overall CCAA Championship, while women's soccer, men's basketball, softball and outdoor T&F all qualified for the post-season. In addition, the Toros took home 1 CCAA Team Championship, 1 CCAA Individual Championship, 4 All American honors, 4 CCAA Newcomer of the Year awards, 4 NCAA postseason appearances, 11 All-Region honorees, 30 All-CCAA selections, and 13 Player / Pitcher of the Weeks, not to mention a higher overall GPA than that of the CSUDH student body.

In 1991, the Toros women's soccer program became the first team in CSU Dominguez Hills' history to capture an NCAA National Championship, defeating Sonoma State on Toro Field, 2-1. Nine years later, the Toros men's soccer team won its first NCAA National Championship by besting Barry University in four overtimes, 2-1.

Although these were the first NCAA titles for CSU Dominguez Hills, Toros sports programs have earned distinction nationwide with regular postseason appearances and top-20 finishes.

A source of even greater pride than the Toros' considerable athletic achievements has been the success of Toros student-athletes in the classroom. CSU Dominguez Hills athletics has produced three Rhodes Scholar candidates and two Rhodes Scholar finalists since 1987. Toros student-athletes have been represented on the GTE Academic All-America teams for nine of the past 11 years and have won two prestigious Woody Hayes Scholar Athlete Awards, making CSU Dominguez Hills one of just two schools in the nation with multiple award winners.

THE HOME DEPOT CENTER

As a result of a partnership between AEG and Cal State Dominguez Hills, the $120 million Home Depot Center opened on the campus of CSUDH in 2003, making the 85-acre site in Carson, CA, not only the premiere “sports campus” in the United States, but one of only three venues in the nation that serves as a National Training Center for United States athletes. Housing both professional and amateur athletics, this investment signals the beginning of a new era for sports in southern California.

And it's all right here at Cal State Dominguez Hills.

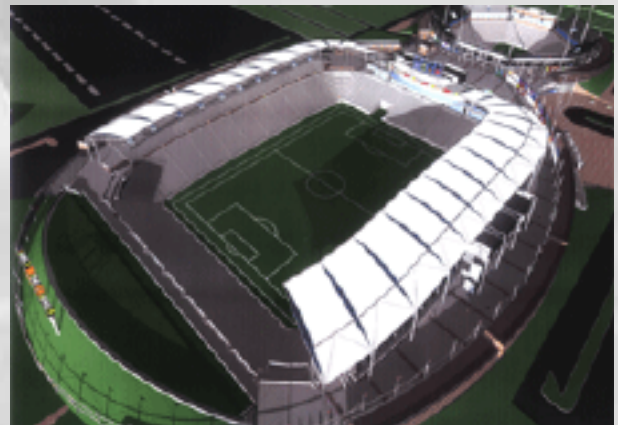

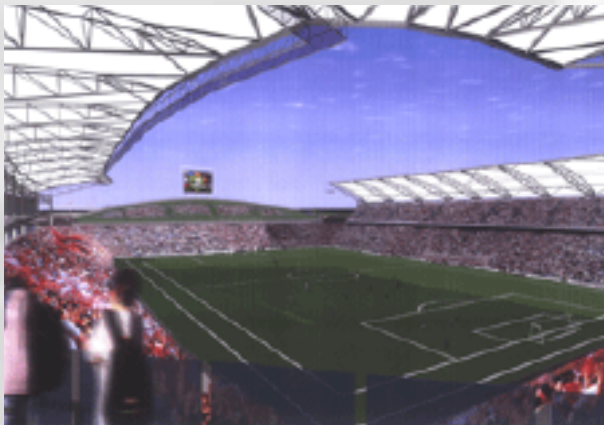

This is the Home Depot Center

- Newly renovated Toros facilities including Toro Stadium, Toro Field, Toro Diamond, 36 on-campus tennis courts and the University's track & field facilities.
- A 27,000-seat soccer stadium that is the new home to the MLS Los Angeles Galaxy and Chivas USA
- New permanent training home to the U.S. Soccer Federation
- A 13,000-seat tennis stadium
- The ADT Event Center, including the only indoor velodrome in North America, which made its debut this past summer

Here's what they've said

- Former CSUDH President James E. Lyons, Sr. - “The Home Depot Center will put the University on the map. It will attract the attention of people throughout the nation and the world to our university; not simply because of the soccer facility or the tennis facility, but due to the fact that a premier training facility in the United States is on our campus. It will also attract new students, and bring a group of private sector friends to our campus that we have not been in touch with.”
- AEG President Timothy Leiweke - “With the vision of Dr. Lyons and our partners at the University ... there is no doubt in my mind that these facilities will create Olympic athletes and host world-class events. It will change amateur and professional sports not just in southern California but also in the United States for years to come.”
