2010 Season Outlook

THE BOYS ARE BACK IN TOWN SPREAD THE WORD AROUND

A New Era Dawns

Rivaling even their most successful past seasons, the 2010 Toro squad has its work cut out as CSUDH looks to improve on the successes of the 2009 season. Short of an appearance in the NCAA D-II College World Series, the '09 bunch left its mark after action in the NCAA D-II West Region Tournament with six All-Americans, three West Region MVPs, 14 All-West Region, six All-CCAA, the CCAA Player of the Year, three CCAA Players of the Week and three Toros extending their careers in the Major League Baseball farm systems.

Records fell as well as no less than eight individual season, five team season and two individual game records now bear the '09 mark.

Stepping up to make their presence known in 2010 will be a mixed squad of 12 returning lettermen and 18 newcomers, twelve of whom have previous experience at the junior college level.

"As successful as we were last year, we still feel that we could have done better overall and throughout the season," reflects head coach Murphy Su'a. "The fact that we played really well and competed with the best teams in the country is a good thing."

It's easy to forget the final four games of the '09 season, in which CSUDH dropped two apiece at the CCAA and West Region tournaments all to nationally-ranked opponents, when looking at the accomplishments of the regular season. The Toros grabbed 24 wins on their home grass, with a streak of 15-straight, both new marks in Toro baseball history.

"It really didn't dawn on me until the season was over. I looked at our record and was very impressed with that," says Su'a. "We use the slogan, 'Protect This House' and that is something we take a lot of pride in, in front of our home fans."

There will be nothing new this year as foes Sonoma State and UC San Diego will look to continue last year's work as they dropped CSUDH from the West Region tournament in 10-11 (UCSD) and 6-7 (SSU) final-inning losses.

"I am pleased with how the guys competed last year," beams Su'a. "I am grateful that we have nationally-ranked teams in our conference and I still believe we have the best conference in the country."

"Going into the CCAA tournament we had the best record head-to-head with our opponents and we proved in regionals that we can play and score runs against anybody. We did that, but we just didn't finish games."

The Questions

The key to success in the new year is answering the questions that have kept coach Su'a busy in the fall off-season.

The first, and one of the most important, is where to get a combined 28 home runs that came last year courtesy of All-Americans Jon Alia and Paul-Michael Klingsberg, both enjoying a run towards the 'Big Show.'

Using the bulk of the 2009 year to recover from an injury, junior outfielder Kevin Pillar will feel the added pressure of becoming a big bat after only one long shot last year. Another outfielder, senior Andrew Baslow is already on his way towards the record books after six home runs as a junior, a number Su'a hopes Baslow will duplicate this spring.

"We are not focusing so much this year on power," states Su'a. "Although we are going to need guys to step up and give us runs with one swing sometimes, and we have the guys who can do that."

"We have guys with surprising pop and I will be surprised if we don't hit as many home runs as last year. Baslow is showing pop and Pillar has matured as a batter, and can drive the ball well."

A second question springs from the mound after the Toros lost half of their 10-man bullpen from '09. Overall, assistant head coach and pitching coordinator Sid Lopez ran his show right, seeing the '09 staff fan a total of 350 batters, the highest in the CCAA, en route to a new CSUDH single-season record.

Of the five returning pitchers, four saw a combined 29 starts, earning much-needed experience as they look to lead this year's squad back to the NCAA postseason.

"The biggest concern I had coming into this year was pitching out of the bullpen," says Su'a. "I think we have shored up that area quite well, and our support staff coming out of the bullpen is going to do a tremendous job."

The final question, one that haunted Su'a after last year's appearance last year, remains how far the Toros have come in the off-season.

Excluding the four season-ending losses of '09, CSUDH was 5-3 against ranked opponents in the regular season, carrying them into the West Region Tournament.

"I know that we as a team got better in the off-season," says Su'a. "But I also know that the conference as a whole got better and my prediction is that we are in it to win it through hard work and practice."

Infielders

Returning three of the five infield positions, senior catcher Brian Sturgis, junior second baseman Carlos Leyva and senior shortstop Dean Benavidez will call the shots around the horn.

Collectively, the trio made only 31 errors in 807 chances, turning 33 double plays in the process. Not just a threat protecting the base, Leyva stole 30-of-36 bags as a runner and grabbed a new CSUDH single-season record of 241 at-bats en route to being named an NCAA/Daktronics & NCBWA All-American Honorable Mention.

As the field general, Sturgis saw action in 40 games, making 34 starts behind the plate, committing only five errors in 218 chances. Across the field, Benavidez was just as steady, making only 15 errors in 241 chances.

"We are solid up the middle with Benavidez and Leyva," says Su'a. "Those two guys work together and do it well."

After the departure of Alia, first base leaves a hole to be filled, most likely by a trio of transfers with seven combined years of collegiate fielding experience in Steve Carrillo, Max Anderson and Cole McCune.

Across the infield, third base is also a question, with three different Toros seeing action at the hot corner last year. Redshirting the '09 season, freshman Jose Jauregui will see action at third, sharing time with junior transfer Abel Medina.

2010 Season Outlook

Two as of yet unknowns in the '10 season will satisfy the utility position, transfer Jose Serrano has third base experience as well as seeing action at both middle positions in his career. True freshman Jesus Padilla of Lakewood provides the versatility as Padilla will not only see action in the field, but at the dish as well and spend time on the mound.

Aside from Sturgis behind the dish, who made 34 starts in '09, senior Derrek Duarte will return as a strong backup after 16 starts in the "2" position. Behind the starting two, transfer Kyle Pond and Brian Gregory provide the luxury of depth at the catcher spot.

Outfield

The one known factor for this year's team is the outfield as Pillar, Baslow, and senior John Skala all return to reclaim their positions.

In the '09 season, the trio made just 12 errors in 247 chances to backup their infield counterparts and will use that same defensive acumen to cover the alleys in clutch situations in '10.

"The outfield is solid with Baslow, Pillar and Skala," states Su'a. "Our biggest concern is keeping those three healthy, and if they have even average years, we will be extremely good in the outfield."

A standout in the field, Baslow was named a 2nd-Team ABCA/Rawlings All-West region selection and CCAA Player of the Week (March 16-22). The Chatsworth native led the team in triples (5) and made only one error in 89 chances. Pillar continued his standout play as the West Hills native tallied a .329 average and was second on the team in stolen bases (18) before being named a 2nd-Team All-CCAA selection.

New additions to the field include a duo of two freshmen, Kevin Logan and Marcus Lefton.

Pitching

Leading the charge from the bump is three-time All-West Region selection and senior Kody Kurowski who, as the only left-handed hurler on the team, will use his 6-4 frame to once again dominate the CCAA. In '09 Kurowski tallied seven wins, 14 starts, 64 Ks and a 3.15 ERA, all CCAA top-ten marks.

"Kurowski stepped up last year and grabbed the No. 1 spot, and that hasn't changed going into this year," Su'a says of his star thrower. "He will still be our No. 1 guy leading us into every series. He doesn't know the meaning of pressure, and he will compete, bottom line."

Shrugging off his injuries of '09, major league prospect in senior Bret Montgomery will look to make a dominant return after grabbing four wins, eight starts, 45 Ks and a 3.30 ERA in '09.

"Montgomery is throwing as well as he has ever thrown and he might be one of the best pitchers in the conference this year," predicts Su'a.

With the loss of two starting pitchers, Su'a will look to change up his 'pen, moving senior Michael Cruz from the set-up position to a spot in the starting four. Cruz fanned 39 batters in 25 appearances to pick up a 6-2 record in '09. Also returning, junior David Fair will step up into a possible spot in the starting rotation after grabbing six starts in 13 games in '09.

A new addition, transfer junior Shane Youngdale will also compete for a spot in the starting four. As in '09, closeout duties once again will be relegated to junior Danny Torres, who grabbed 25 appearances last season.

Coach Su'a will look to the addition of two freshmen, described as "quality freshmen pitchers," to further add depth to the 'pen in Andrew Klausmeier and Sean Wardour.

A South Bay native, junior Alan Gatz from Torrance will provide the versatility in the staff for the Toros. Gatz has the skill to start, relieve and close a game. The Toros add a new closer in junior Johnny Silva, while a converted infielder in junior Bob Stone and sometimes-designated hitter Barrett Ceverha will round out the additions to the staff.

Batting

A key to every offense, the Toros return six of their top ten batters for an offensive jump-start this spring.

Sensational in the lead-off position, Leyva looks to expand on his 30 stolen bases from last season before number two hitter Baslow - who saw 21 starts in the two-hole last year - even has a chance to connect.

Not only exchanging his first base position for his run at the majors within the San Diego Padres system, Alia cemented himself as the cleanup man in '09, a spot that will be heavily contested for in '10.

"Skala will be a force to deal with at the plate as well as transfer Abel Medina," says Su'a. "But our biggest hitter this year could be our catcher Pond, a lethal switch hitter."

JOSE JAUREGUI

Closing

Entering his fourth year at the helm, Su'a has a proven formula for success, seeing his past three teams finish at 8th, then 6th and finally at 4th last year in the CCAA.

Picked to finish 5th in conference in the pre-season coaches poll, Su'a has a bigger target on his mind.

"As a team we have our ultimate goals and the No. 1 goal is to win a National Championship Title," Su'a says as a matter-of-fact. "The next goal is a West Region Tournament win and right before that is a CCAA Tournament Title."

"As our every day goal, we want to win every pitch", concludes Su'a. "If we do well at every pitch then we will be successful."

"I am really excited about this club, and I know that we are going to make a lot of noise."

MURPHY SU'A

4th Season Head Coach • 9th Season Overall
Torrance, CA • Brigham Young University / University of Phoenix

Murphy Su'a begins his fourth full-time season as head coach of the Toros program, and ninth season overall at CSUDH.

Su'a, 54, brings over 27 years of coaching experience and 23 years of field experience to the program. He walked on and played two seasons at LA Valley College (1976-77) without ever playing baseball in high school. He then transferred to Brigham Young University where he was an NCAA Division I First-Team All-America selection in 1979. A First-Team All-Rocky Mountain Region and All-WAC selection, Su'a broke six Cougar single-season records for home runs, runs batted in, runs scored, doubles, total bases and at-bats. He was among the national leaders in home runs (22) and RBI (91) en route to leading BYU to the WAC Championship.

Invited to try out for the USA National Team, Su'a instead elected to sign with the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1979 where he anchored third base for the Pioneer League Champions, Lethbridge Dodgers (Canada). He played for the Class-A Lodi Dodgers in 1980 and was recognized as the Dodgers' minor league system "Player of the Week" in July 1980. A hand injury ended a two-year stint with the Dodgers organization, pushing Su'a to sign with the Milwaukee Brewers where he played four more years before retiring. In August he was named the Brewers' minor league "Player of the Month" and was selected to play on the Midwest All-Star team.

Su'a also brings 11 years international baseball experience with the American Samoa National Baseball Team (1989-2000) where he played in numerous international tournaments including the Olympic trials, World Baseball Challenge, and the NBC World Series. Su'a earned a gold medal in the BCO Championships and silver medals in the 1999 South Pacific Games and the 2000 Olympic qualifying tournament.

Su'a began his coaching career with the Brewers as a pitching coach for Paintsville in 1983 and was a player/coach/manager for the Brewers' affiliate in Stockton, CA. Coach Su'a served as the pitching coach at East Los Angeles CC for two years before taking over the assistant varsity coaching position at West Torrance HS under head coach Harry Jenkins where he helped guide the Warriors to six Bay League Championships and a No. 1 national ranking in 2000 with a record of 30-2.

In addition to his baseball accolades, Su'a was a junior golden gloves boxer, received a music scholarship for gifted musicians to the Californian Institute of Arts, holds a third degree black belt in Tae Kwon Do, was a three-time karate grand champion, is a member of the Screen Actors Guild, and was the former CEO of Royal Pacific Express, Inc., an airfreight trucking and transportation company. Su'a has three children, Justin (28), Natasha (25), Travis (21), and five grandchildren, Jarom, Aliitasi, Mya, Elianna, Marlee with number six due in August of 2010. Currently Travis is serving a church mission in Leon, Mexico while Natasha served as a thrower for BYU Track & Field in 2004 & '05.

The Torrance resident lives with his wife Nina. His son Justin was a Louisville Slugger Freshman All-American pitcher at BYU in 2001.

Says Coach Su'a:

"Josh will serve as our third base coach as well as infield and hitting coach. He experienced one of the biggest events and stages in college baseball as an infielder for UC Irvine in their 2006 and '08 playoff runs. Josh is a fantastic instructor of fielding and hitting and has had a positive influence on our players. Josh has also accepted the painstaking duties of maintaining our playing surface which he does for hours upon hours each day. We are extremely glad and lucky to have Josh on board."

ERICH PFOHL

1st Season Assistant Coach
Moraga, CA • Whittier College

Joining the Toro staff in the Fall of 2009, Pfohl comes to Carson with a deep history of the game having coached at the high school, collegiate and summer league levels.

Prior to CSUDH, Pfohl served for one year at nearby Vanguard University, serving as the associate recruiting coordinator, outfield coach and first base coach.

Graduating from Whittier College with his bachelor's degree in business administration, Pfohl saw action for the Poets as a pitcher from 2004-2006.

Says Coach Su'a:

"Coach Pfohl will serve in any areas including baseball operations and baseball administration. Erich has great knowledge of the game and can teach it well. He also has a good eye for talent and does a great job in finding players that would fit our program at CSUDH. Along with his work on the field, Coach Pfohl has been a welcomed assistant in the office relieving and assuming many of my administrative duties. We are fortunate to have Erich join our staff this year."

University President

DR. MILDRED GARCÍA

Mildred García, Ed.D., is the seventh president of California State University, Dominguez Hills and the eleventh female president—the 1st Latina president—in the California State University system.

With a strong commitment to equitable access in higher education for all and with more than three decades of teaching and administrative experience, Dr. García took the helm as President on August 1, 2007 and is poised to lead the highly diverse faculty, staff and student body at CSU Dominguez Hills. An urban university located in the South Bay area of Los Angeles County, CSU Dominguez Hills offers 45 baccalaureate degrees and 21 master's degrees. Enrollment exceeds 12,000 students, of which about 2,000 enroll via distance education opportunities. The student population is among the most ethnically and culturally rich in the nation. President García brings with her a commitment to multicultural alliances and believes that these coalitions strengthen not only an individual's self-development and opportunities, but also strengthen institutions and communities.

President García came to Dominguez Hills after serving from 2001 to 2007 as president of Berkeley College in New York and New Jersey, where she championed the cause of access with success—the obligation to make the attainment of a college degree a realistic goal for all who strive to succeed. Under her leadership, the college began offering full academic programs in an online format. Over 14 bachelor's and 14 associate's degrees were approved, including Criminal Justice, International Business, Fashion Marketing and Management, Health Information Management and Human Resources. The college also made a number of capital improvements during her tenure, including the construction of new facilities as well as the modernization and renovation of existing facilities.

Prior to Berkeley, she was at Arizona State University (1997-2001), holding a variety of positions there, including Vice Provost for Academic Personnel, Associate Vice Provost for Academic Affairs, Associate Director of the Hispanic Research Center at Arizona State University, and Tenured Professor in the Social and Behavioral Sciences Department.

From 1986 to 1996 she was at Montclair State University, starting out as Executive Assistant to the Vice President of Academic Affairs before joining the faculty in the School of Professional Studies and serving as Assistant Vice President of Academic Affairs (1988-1996). She has also held the post of Dean of Students at Hostos Community College of City University of New York (1979-1986).

An educator foremost, President García's research has concentrated on equity in higher education and its impact on policy and practice. She has written extensively and is a much sought-after speaker at national and international conferences. Among the books she has authored are Succeeding in an Academic Career, which focuses on how faculty of color can succeed in higher education; Assessing Campus Diversity Initiatives (co-published); and Transforming the 1st Year of College for Students of Color (with Laura I. Redón and Dawn Person). Most recently, she was a keynote speaker at the Association of American Colleges and Universities' Annual Conference, and presented at the American Council on Education's 3rd Summit for Women of Color Administrators in Higher Education. She was panel moderator for "Connecting Higher Education to Industry and Marketplace Needs" at the International Economic Development Council (IEDC) Annual Conference and delivered the keynote address at the University of San Diego, Community College Leadership Development Initiatives Summer Academy.

President García is an active member of the American Council of Education where she serves on its Board of Directors. She also serves on the Editorial Advisory Board of Peer Review, Association of American Colleges and Universities; on the Advisory Board for Hispanic Outlook in Higher Education, on the Board of Trustees of the Caucus Educational Corporation; on the Board of Trustees of Caribbean University, Puerto Rico; and as founding board member of the National Council for Educational Partnerships.

President García received a Doctor of Education as well as a Master of Arts in higher education administration from Teachers College, Columbia University; an M.A. in business education/higher education from New York University; a B.S. in business education from Bernard Baruch College of City University of New York (CUNY); and an A.A.S. in legal secretarial sciences in business from New York City Community College of CUNY.

THE UNIVERSITY

Located in Carson, just 13 miles south from LAX and minutes from the South Bay beaches, California State University, Dominguez Hills sits on a 346-acre campus that shares space with the Home Depot Center, home to MLS soccer teams the L.A. Galaxy and Chivas USA.

The University boasts an environment that provides a distinct advantage for its students by embracing the surrounding community. CSUDH's diverse demographics are shown through every possible dimension: cultural, ethnic, age, gender, religious, economic and intellectual. Serving students locally, nationally and internationally, the Carson campus allows students to pursue a higher education while being able to develop the skills necessary for the working world after graduation. By creating a balance between the desired social atmosphere of a small campus and the cultural and academic possibilities available at a larger university, ample opportunities exist to quench the desire for intellectual development.

EDUCATIONAL DIVERSITY

Cal State Dominguez Hills embraces the diversity of its students by sponsoring more than 70 student organizations ranging from Departmental/Professional and Recreation/Sports organizations to Cultural, Religious Service and Special Interest groups.

The University is divided into six distinct schools/colleges: College of Business Administration and Public Policy; College of Education; College of Extended and International Education; College of Health and Human Services; College of Natural and Behavioral Sciences; College of Arts & Humanities.

Through these programs, CSUDH offers 45 majors and 51 minors, 26 Certificate Programs, 22 Graduate Degree Programs and 10 Credential Programs that serve an average 12,000 students per semester while boasting an exceptional 21:1 student-to-faculty ratio.

Opportunities to study abroad are available in seventeen countries including Chile, Japan, England, Mexico, Peru and France to name a few.

DISTANCE LEARNING

CSUDH also is a nationwide leader in distance learning programs, which have been featured on National Public Radio's "Morning Edition" and NBC-TV's "Homepage." Other off-campus programs that have made CSUDH the vibrant institution it has become are the statewide nursing program, the master's of humanities and an online MBA program.

HOUSING

Cal State Dominguez Hills holds a unique opportunity for students by offering on-campus housing. It's a convenient, safe and cost-effective resource to enhance the time spent at school. In contrast to the traditional residence halls or dormitories, University Housing is an apartment complex composed of 22 separate two-story buildings and two common buildings. All apartments are fully furnished and facilities include recreation and meeting rooms, laundry facilities and a computer lab. On the complex grounds are basketball and volleyball courts, a weight room and a picnic area, with grassy knolls and an exquisite landscape surrounding the buildings that create a perfect background for either studying or relaxing, or both.

PATRICK GUILLEN

Director of Athletics

Patrick Guillen assumed his position as the Director of Intercollegiate Athletics on November 1, 2005 after serving as the Assistant Athletics Director since 2002, and has led the department to its most successful overall seasons since its inception in 1968. Guillen's tenure at CSUDH began in August of 1995 as the Director of Athletic Media Relations after coming to the Toros program from Vanguard University (formerly So. California College) in Costa Mesa, CA.

As the Director of Athletics, Guillen secured several new corporate partners, updated CSUDH's corporate sponsorship with Enterprise Rent-A-Car, hired CSUDH's new volleyball and baseball coaches, oversaw the appointment of a new Faculty Athletics Representative, raised necessary funds for new baseball and softball bleachers, sold venue advertising, centralized and updated concessions, and formulated future fundraising ideas which have substantially increased CSUDH Athletics funding beginning in the 2006 season. Additionally, his efforts were instrumental in the annual Toros Scholarship Golf Classics, which consistently have increased their profits over the past four years under Guillen's leadership.

Guillen serves on the Board of Directors for the Boys & Girls Club of Carson, as well as on both the CCAA Administrative and CCAA Championship Committees. He is also an active member of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) and the NCAA Division II Athletic Directors Association, was named an NCAA Regional Advisory Committee member for women's soccer and appointed the CCAA Sports Information liaison, and most recently was selected for a 3-year term on the Baseball West Region Committee.

In 2006, Guillen began his appointments on the CSUDH WASC Sub-Committee for Civic Engagement, as well as on the University Budget Committee (UBC), which recommends budget requests and allocations to the President of the University, two committees he continues to serve on.

Guillen has been an integral part of an Athletics Department that has captured two NCAA Division II men's soccer National Championships (including 2008), hosted the NCAA Division II Final Four women's soccer championship, and first- and second-round NCAA Division II men's soccer championships. In addition, Guillen initiated the negotiation process that brought the Home Depot Center to the Carson campus.

On the academic front, the overall student-athlete GPA has increased from 2.63 (04-05) to 2.67 (05-06) to 2.73 (06-07) to 2.78 (07-08) to 2.90 this past year under Guillen's leadership, an all-time high, while 76 student-athletes made the CSUDH Athletics spring 2009 honor roll, 61 were recognized by the NCAA as part of the 22nd Annual National STUDENT-Athlete Day, and 27 Toros were named to the 2008-09 CCAA's All-Academic list. Additionally, four of 17 total recipients were named CSUDH Presidential Scholars this past year.

Beginning with his Assistant Athletics Director/Media Relations responsibilities in 2002, Guillen had been responsible for fundraising, media, community and public relations, as well as the oversight of all home event management operations.

Prior to working in intercollegiate athletics, Guillen enjoyed a successful sales and marketing career in the healthcare industry, working as the Area Marketing Manager for what was then the largest privately-owned healthcare organization in the country, Comprehensive Rehabilitation Associates, Inc.

Born in nearby Torrance, Guillen's roots are fixed in Carson, having graduated from Carson High School. He earned his undergraduate degree in Business Administration with an emphasis in Management and Marketing from Vanguard University in 1987. Guillen resides in Irvine.

The CCAA

The California Collegiate Athletic Association has been the nation's most successful intercollegiate athletic conferences since its establishment in December 1938.

The 12-member league is home to some of the nation's finest NCAA Division II athletic programs in Cal Poly Pomona, Cal State Dominguez Hills, Cal State East Bay, Cal State L.A., Cal State San Bernardino, Cal State Stanislaus, Chico State, CSU, Monterey Bay, Humboldt State, UC San Diego, San Francisco State and Sonoma State.

CCAA institutions compete in seven women's and six men's conference-sponsored sports. Fall sports include men's and women's cross country, men's and women's soccer and women's volleyball. Men's and women's basketball are contested in the winter, and women's tennis, men's golf, men's and women's outdoor track & field, softball and baseball comprise spring competition.

CCAA members have won 148 NCAA Championships (100 men, 48 women) all time, far and away the most of any Division II conference. On the men's side, CCAA members have brought home at least 10 titles in swimming & diving (25), wrestling (16), track & field (13), tennis (11) and baseball (10).

During 2008-09, CCAA captured team national championships in men's soccer (Cal State Dominguez Hills) and men's golf (Sonoma State). Cal Poly Pomona was national-runner up in men's basketball and Cal State San Bernardino finished second at the NCAA Championships in women's volleyball and men's golf.

CCAA institutions have been very successful in the history of NCAA women's athletics, having won 10 cross country, nine softball, six track & field, five volleyball and five basketball national championships as well as 13 more in four other sports.

The CCAA has undergone several changes in conference membership since charter members UC Santa Barbara, Fresno State, San Diego State and San Jose State came together to form the league in 1938. Over the past 70 years, a number of institutions have been members of the CCAA, including Cal State Bakersfield, Cal State Northridge, Cal Poly San Luis Obispo, Chapman, Cal State Fullerton, Long Beach State, Pacific, Pepperdine, UC Riverside, UC Davis and Grand Canyon University.

The CCAA Commissioner's Office relocated from southern California to the San Francisco Bay Area-suburb of Walnut Creek in July 1998. Robert J. Hiebert is in his 12th year as the Commissioner.

Toro Traditions of Excellence

Cal State Dominguez Hills is an NCAA Division II institution that competes in the California Collegiate Athletic Association (CCAA). Although CSUDH is one of the younger schools in the conference, we are one of the most athletically competitive and honored schools in the CCAA, with 26 conference titles and five national championships to date.

The Athletics Department was founded in 1968 with the inception of the school's first intercollegiate team in men's golf, which was founded by the Toros' first ever Athletics Director, Dr. John Johnson. "Dr. J," as he's affectionately known, continues his role to this day as the head coach of the men's golf team and currently is the oldest active coach in the NCAA - a true living legend, indeed!

In a letter dated April 1969, Chairman of the 2nd Ad Hoc Committee on College Symbols Thomas S. Bullock announced that the CSUDH student body voted on Cardinal and Gold as the school's colors, and a bull to replace the existing "Gypsy Dancer" as its new mascot.

The bull, since referred to as the Toro, was derived from the "Dominguez Family history of cattle ranching," and will also "be well adapted to team symbols, etc." Luckily for both CSUDH and our newly-adapted school mascot, the volatile nature of a bull's temperament deterred Chairman Bullock from keeping a live example on campus.
